Do my billing and shipping address have to match?

Johan - 2021-10-11 - Shipment

You are welcome to use a billing address different from your shipping address. Simply choose PayPal, credit card or instant bank transfer as your preferred payment method and enter your desired shipping address in the designated field. For security reasons, this service is not available with the purchase-on-account option.